Designer Developer

As a Designer Developer my focus aims at both the aesthetic and the functionality. If a project looks great but doesn't work it's no good, and vice versa. Attention to detail and putting myself into the users shoes helps me design better and develop smarter to create immersing and engaging visions.

Employment

Designer Developer Freelancer

Various Locations
Aug 2011 – Present

I have just moved to Australia, after living in NZ for 2 years, and have recently worked on web design, multimedia and graphic design projects. I am seeking employment or freelance work with Australian based agencies as I have a visa to work in Australia for the next 5 years.

Senior Designer TBA Digital

Vancouver, Canada
Apr 2009 – Jul 2011

Leading high-profile design and development projects involving Flash, multimedia and web. Projects included tradeshow presentations such as multitouch tables, websites, animations and iOS apps. Assisting Junior Designers with their work and helping keep them focused and on track.

Web Designer Akiko Design

Guildford, UK
May 2007 – Jan 2009

Designing and developing Flash and multimedia products; including websites, presentation tools, animations and web components. Also involved in standard web development using HTML and CSS.

Multimedia Developer
Bluhalo

Winchfield, UK
Oct 2005 – Nov 2006

Responsible for all multimedia projects involving Flash, such as tutorials, games, screensavers, cd-roms, animations, video streaming, MP3 players and more. Also involved with standard web development as well as graphic design.

Designer Developer
RH Advertising

Exeter, UK
Sep 2003 – Sep 2004

Interning as a designer developer for my industrial placement year as part of my degree, experiencing the day to day workings of a design agency. I was responsible for the design and development of Flash and multimedia pieces.

Skills

I am an experienced graphic and UI designer and have been involved with projects such as websites, animations, multimedia projects, branding and logo design. Day to day work involves extensive time using the Adobe suite. At TBA Digital I was responsible for high profile design projects (typically a website, multimedia piece, animation or brainstorming concepts) as well as looking after other designers and animators to keep them on track.

I communicate well with clients and I am able to help a client realise what they are after and offer new creative ideas to them. I also work well with other creative and technical types to collaborate on projects but I also quite often work on my own design projects from start to finish. I have extensive experience working with Flash/AS3.0, HTML/CSS, video, audio and I also have experience designing for iOS. I am very interested in emerging technologies and learning new skills; for example I recently built a large multitouch table with AIR.
